Corrigendum

To cite this article: (2016) Corrigendum, Sociological Spectrum, 36:6, 406-406, DOI: 10.1080/02732173.2016.1248210

To link to this article: https://doi.org/10.1080/02732173.2016.1248210

Published online: 17 Oct 2016.

Article views: 125

View related articles

View Crossmark data
Corrigendum

Article title: “Health international non-governmental organizations, democracy, and tuberculosis mortality in developing nations: A longitudinal analysis”
Authors: Gary Maynard
Journal: Sociological Spectrum
Bibliometrics: Volume 36, Number 5, pages 303–320
DOI: 10.1080/02732173.2016.1169962

The list of author names was incorrect in the original online publication. The correct list of author names for this article should appear as:

Gary Maynard, Michael Restivo, and Eric Shircliff.

Michael Restivo is an Assistant Professor of Sociology at the State University of New York at Geneseo. His work focuses broadly on national and global disparities in health, technology, and environment. His research, which has been published in journals such as Social Science Research and Sociology of Development, uses quantitative, longitudinal methods to study concerns such as maternal mortality from a macro comparative perspective.

Eric Shircliff received his PhD from Stony Brook University in 2015. Currently, he is a Lecturer in Sociology at St. Joseph’s College in Patchogue, New York. His research focuses on the intersection of human health and international development, specifically the ways in which global political and economic processes affect patterns of illness. His work has appeared in the Journal of World Systems Research, International Sociology, and Sociological Forum.

The authors apologize for any inconvenience caused.